Dear Mr. Hunsinger:

I would like to express my sincere gratitude for the continued support the State of Oregon has received from the following Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) employees and contractors: Dave Anderson, Cecil Walker and Jason Holcomb.

Oregon Emergency Management is a small agency and having two additional engineers and a geologist available made working on the Port of Tillamook Bay Railroad Project much smoother and timelier. Their service to the state is to be commended.

I am impressed by the months of untiring work that has been invested in this complicated project. The development of the project worksheet, with over 150 sites and cost estimates at around $50 million, would have been extremely difficult to complete without their help.

I value the relationship Oregon has with FEMA and with continued partnership we can work toward ensuring one hundred percent compliance with the Stafford Act. Dave, Cecil and Jason have been a great team. They are now honorary Oregonians.

Thanks again to FEMA and to the team.

Sincerely,
